What does REACH Furniture Nester do?

A significant part of the cost of furniture products is material cost.

In a competitive furniture market, the ability to provide furniture at prices attractive to customers while protecting margins for the firm is critical to survive, grow and thrive.

A lot of material is wasted in furniture manufacture, as the optimal packing of patterns involves very, many permutations and combinations. This would be a challenging task even for a highly skilled pattern lay planner.

REACH Furniture Nester leverages new generation, powerful Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools to create optimal layouts of patterns saving significant quantities of material.

REACH Furniture Nester will enable you create an effective material cost management system.
